Support their future...

Your help will make a significant difference

The Zoological Society of East Anglia Zsea is a registered charitable Trust. Its objectives feature the active contribution to conservation of wildlife, particularly of threatened species and habitat. Such contribution includes maintaining appropriate endangered animals and threatened species, together with the appropriate breeding of them in cooperation with the worldwide zoo community, whilst also promoting and actively contributing to conservation programmes in the wild.

Banham Zoo and Africa Alive! are Zsea parks that offer their visitors an enriching, educational and recreational zoological experience.

Both parks are recognised worldwide for their important work in support of the conservation of endangered species and habitats, and also for their successful breeding programs. They are invaluable members of the global zoos and wildlife community where the animals and their people constantly inspire.

Will you help us?

We conserve, care for, and manage wildlife. We engage, inspire and train people in animal management and welfare. We keep and maintain the animals under our stewardship to the highest standards and as part of a managed and linked world-wide conservation network.

We inform and educate visitors about the Earth's wildlife heritage. We provide a valuable resource where people can enjoy and be inspired by the animals in our care and re-connect with the living world.

*We don't do 'sob stories'.
We do what we do, and do it well.*

We are 'local' (Norfolk & Suffolk) but what we do has benefits the world over.

*We are 'animals'
- they are our inspiration
- they are the reason for our existence.*

We are proud of what we do, but not so proud that we dare not ask you for your help and support.

Will you help us?

A gift in your Will

By including Zsea in your Will you will be helping us to continue with the important work we do and sustain a better future for endangered wildlife and habitats for generations to come.

There are many different ways how you can include a charitable legacy in your Will:

- A specific sum of money
- A percentage of your estate after all other benefits and costs have been taken out
- Naming Zsea as a beneficiary in a life insurance policy that is no longer needed to provide for dependents.

How to include the Zoological Society of East Anglia in your Will

Your Will is a legal document, and if you are considering leaving a legacy to Zsea the exact wording is essential to ensure that your wishes are carried out. We would advise that you seek professional legal advice when drawing up or changing your Will. Your solicitor will help you word your bequest so that it reflects your exact wishes.

The essential information you will need from us to give to your solicitor to include in the legal documents is our full name, address and registered charity number:-

Zoological Society of East Anglia
Banham Zoo and Africa Alive!
